Anyway, he came over to a ward NA station where I was and asked me for a light. After asking him where he was going to smoke it (he said patient's toilet next to me). I gave it to him.

Last night, Tues. Aug 13, a party was given for a member of the staff. "Don't turn the TV on, Don't let the patient in and leave the table there, we are going to use it for food." The nurse said. So in primetime 8:20-9PM with all the patients up on the ~~many~~ floor many of them going back-and-forth in the hallway, the dayroom was transformed completely for only (staff) pleasure and use. A lot changed in a little over a week.

Whatever one or two were given some food I do not know. I am sure none were to be invited.
